

Halloween is on in Valparaiso

The City of Valparaiso will be hosting trick-or-treating on Halloween night, Saturday, Oct. 31 from 5:30 to 7:30, rain or shine, announced Valparaiso Mayor Matt Murphy. “Trick-or-treat night is a highlight of childhood and we’re confident that parents and the community can make it a fun and safe evening,” said Murphy.

The City of Valparaiso encourages parents to supervise their trick or treaters, making sure they’re visible and dressed so they can see out and not trip over costumes. The COVID-19 pandemic means that parents will also want to exercise caution in choosing the size of their trick-or-treat group and make sure kids wash hands frequently and before they eat their goodies.

“As always, we recognize that handing out treats is optional, and some residents may not wish to participate,” said Murphy. The City reminds that trick or treaters should not visit homes with their porch lights off. The City is also providing a coloring page that residents may post if they want to advertise that they’ll be welcoming trick or treaters. Find the page by visiting the Community Engagement page at Valpo.us or stopping by City Hall from 8:30 am to 4:30 pm Monday through Friday.
