

Valparaiso Adds Bonus Paving and Updates on Leaves

Due to favorable weather and cost efficiencies, the City of Valparaiso has been able to add several beneficial paving projects to the 2020 schedule before winter hits. “It’s always a good thing when we can make our time and resources go further in the city,” said Mayor Matt Murphy. “Some of these added paving projects have been small segments that will make big and positive differences for motorists and extend the life of the roadway,” he said.

Here are projects motorists can expect to see in the coming weeks:

- Wood Street by Parkview Elementary School
- Center Street – Ridgeland Avenue to South of Hope Street
- Ransom Road – spot improvement just south of Froberg Road
- CR 400N – City Limits to Froberg Road
- CR 375N – City Limits to Froberg Road
- Intersection improvement Linden Lane and Appletree Lane
- Silhavy Road spot improvement just north of Vale Park Road
- Hastings Terrace – Victoria Drive to Cul-de-sac
- Calumet Avenue intersection spot improvement
- Install speed humps for traffic calming in various locations citywide

At the same time, City of Valparaiso leaf collection efforts continue throughout the city. This year Valparaiso is providing updates on progress, including an interactive zone map to assist residents in planning ahead for leaf collection.
