

Hannah Trueblood Named to Valparaiso Board of Zoning Appeals

Hannah Trueblood has been named to the Valparaiso Board of Zoning Appeals by the Valparaiso City Council, announced Mayor Jon Costas. “Hannah Trueblood’s commitment to the community and background in service make her an excellent addition to our city’s Board of Zoning Appeals,” said Mayor Costas.

Hannah Trueblood is a lifelong Valparaiso resident who has served as a full-time real estate broker since 2017. She has served on the Porter County Tax Board of Appeals, is a member of Northwest Indiana National Organization for Women and serves on the board for Valpo Next. She is the mother of two and has been involved in community advocacy and supporting community organizations since the age of eight.

The Board of Zoning Appeals is a five-member board appointed by the mayor and empowered by state law to oversee the review of proposals for granting relief from local zoning ordinances. The BZA meets monthly on the third Tuesday of the month. For more information, visit Valpo.us.
